BW Energy logs 21.5 kbopd from Gabon Dussafu in Q3

Saga deep read · 15 October 2026 · Score 66

BW Energy produced 2.0 million barrels of oil (mmbbls) in the third quarter of 2026 from its Dussafu licence in Gabon, equivalent to 21.5 thousand barrels of oil per day (kbopd). The company released these preliminary operational figures ahead of its full financial results, scheduled for publication on 29 October 2026.

The Dussafu licence remains BW Energy's core production asset in Gabon, and the Q3 update confirms continued operational activity at the licence. The release of preliminary figures ahead of formal financial reporting is standard practice for Oslo-listed operators, giving investors and partners an early read on production performance before detailed cost and revenue data are disclosed.

For Norwegian oil and gas service companies, the Dussafu operation is a standing point of interest. BW Energy is a familiar counterpart in the African offshore space, and its continued production cadence at Dussafu signals that the asset remains in active operational mode. At 21.5 kbopd net, the production rate reflects ongoing well and facility activity at the licence, though the preliminary update does not specify well count, drilling status, facility uptime, or any planned workover or infill campaign activity. Further operational detail is expected when full financial results are published on 29 October 2026.

Norwegian service companies with existing relationships in the Gabon market should monitor the full Q3 release for any disclosed guidance on drilling plans, facility upgrades, or production optimisation activities at Dussafu that could open procurement windows. Until that detail is available, the preliminary update confirms operational continuity but does not indicate an imminent tender or contract opportunity.

Why this matters to partners and clients of Saga

This is a preliminary operational update with no disclosed drilling, FPSO, subsea, or procurement activity — Norwegian service companies should monitor the full financial results on 29 October 2026 for guidance on upcoming campaigns at Dussafu. Firms with existing Gabon-market presence or prior Dussafu touchpoints should use the interim period for relationship maintenance with BW Energy's operations team. No supplier or procurement outreach is warranted on the basis of this release alone.

PARTNER ANGLES

- Drilling & well services: Monitor full Q3 results for any disclosed infill or workover campaign at Dussafu that could open rig or well-services procurement windows.
- FPSO & topside operators: Dussafu production is tied to floating production infrastructure; firms with FPSO maintenance or modification capabilities should track facility uptime disclosures in the October results.
- Subsea & umbilicals: Any production optimisation or new well tie-back activity at Dussafu would require subsea services; no such activity is confirmed yet but warrants monitoring.
